Overview

Dell, HPE, Lenovo, and Supermicro are riding record AI server demand, but winning enterprise customers requires more than just Nvidia chips. With GPUs standardized around Nvidia, vendors compete on AI Ops, liquid cooling, and deployment services as enterprises ramp up inference in 2026. Behind every smart AI algorithm is a powerhouse of raw computing: servers that process billions of calculations per second, data centers that consume as much power as small cities, and specialized hardware built to handle AI's relentless demands. In 2025, global AI chips focus on high-end HBM memory; NVIDIA's new Blackwell platform drives growth, amid geopolitical limits and steady AI server demand, with rapid HBM technology evolution toward HBM4 in 2026.
