

How to make a cable tray using clips

Overview

Binder clips are all you need to keep chargers at your desk easily reachable, identifiable and neatly organised. Count out the number of wires you have, and attach the same number of binder clips onto the side of your desk. This instructable presents a solution for hanging those cables properly, using easy-to-make and user-friendly clips, from which cables can be hung vertically. DIY Tip: Use twist ties or bread bag clips as an affordable DIY cord organizer to bundle cables together. It's the poor man's cable management—and it works! Make sure everything is tight, tidy, and secured.
